

Short Biography of Prof. Anisul Haque

Prof. Anisul Haque is currently the Chairperson, Department of Electrical and Electronic Engineering at East West University. He has also served as the Dean, Faculty of Sciences and Engineering, East West University from December 2007 to December 2008. He received his PhD from Clarkson University, USA in 1996 and MS from Texas A & M University, USA in 1992. He also earned another MS from Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET), Bangladesh in 1989 and BS from BUET in 1987. Prof. Haque started his academic career as a lecturer in the EEE Department, BUET in 1987. He was a professor in the same department until December 2005. He was a Visiting Researcher with the Research Center for Quantum Effect Electronics, Tokyo Institute of Technology, Japan, from 2002 to 2004. Prof. Haque has also been a Visiting Faculty Member with Clarkson University (1997, 1998 and 2001), University of Connecticut, Storrs (1999), and the Tokyo Institute of Technology (2005).

Prof. Haque's research interests include physics, modeling, simulation, and characterization of nano electronic and photonic devices and quantum transport. He is also interested in engineering education. Prof. Haque has published around 75 papers in refereed international journals and conference proceedings. He has presented invited talks in Bangladesh, Japan and India and has served as a member of the program committees of a number of international conferences. Prof. Haque is a senior member of IEEE and is a life member of Bangladesh Physical Society. He is the founding Chair of IEEE Electron Devices Society, Bangladesh Chapter. Prof. Haque is serving as a Distinguished Lecturer of IEEE Electron Devices Society. He is the recipient of the University Grants Commission Award 2006 for research in engineering and technology.